On the Estate

The landscape is part of the experience

As a guest at Aodin, you have privileged access to the grounds and offerings of the 4,000-acre Edradynate Estate. The land here isn't just a backdrop — it's an invitation.

By arrangement, you can enjoy:

- Seasonal game shooting across the estate's diverse terrain
- Clay pigeon shooting in a peaceful woodland setting
- Fly fishing on the River Tay – one of Scotland's most storied salmon rivers
- Kayaking or sailing on Loch Derchulich – a secluded loch within the estate
- Woodland walks, deer spotting, and wild picnics just beyond the door

Whether you're here to move, still your mind, or learn something new, Aodin offers space and the quiet — to do just that. Ask us about guided sessions, tailored experiences, or seasonal availability when booking.
