DISCOVER THE SCOTTISH HIGHLANDS

ON THE ESTATE

The landscape is part of the experience at Aodin, and as a guest, you have privileged access to the grounds and offerings of the 4,000-acre Edradyne Estate. The land here isn't just a backdrop, it's an invitation. By arrangement, you can enjoy:

- Woodland walks, deer spotting, and wild picnics just beyond the door
- Kayaking or sailing on Loch Derchulich – a secluded loch within the estate
- Wild swimming in Loch Derchulich – cold, clear, and deeply invigorating
- Seasonal game shooting across the estate's diverse terrain
- Clay pigeon shooting in a peaceful woodland setting
- Fly fishing on the River Tay – one of Scotland's most storied salmon rivers

Whether you're here to move, still your mind or learn something new, Aodin offers space and the quiet to do just that. Ask us about guided sessions, tailored experiences, or seasonal availability when booking.

NATURE & STILLNESS

The Birks of Aberfeldy & Falls of Moness

A poetic woodland walk, immortalised by Robert Burns. A 1.5-mile trail through mossy trees, cascading falls and hushed forest.
